About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Teguigalpa, March 24. 1961.

Dear Doctor,

This morning Mr. Bades called up and gave us the shocking news, that Helen also has left us forever.

I am overwhelmed with grief and I know only too well, what you have to go through now. Words cannot help - ~~no~~ one can help you in this deepest sorrow. One must go through it all alone. Not the nearest and dearest can take the weight off your heart. You must carry it all by yourself.

Beano and Babo also feel deeply with you, so does Mr. Bades. We dare not tell Mrs. Bades, she has not been too well lately.

Our thoughts are constantly with you. All your friends will feel the same way. You are not alone, your wonderful daughters and your son, will be your greatest consolation. But I know, the pain is there, and time is not such a great healer - as people say, I found that out. One must go on living - but the sorrow and the loneliness and pain are all your own.

Our deepest sympathy and love from Ted and Alice. [Weiss Popenoe]
