About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Dr. Shaw's English Edition of Lord Bacon's Works.

THIS DAY IS PUBLISHED,
A NEW and beautiful Edition of the WORKS of the great FRANCIS BACON, Baron Verulam, Viscount St. Albans, and Lord High Chancellor of England. Printed on a fine Yellow Wove Paper, in the best Manner, in Twelve Volumes, small Octavo, with several Engravings; dedicated, by Permission, to Sir JOSEPH BANKS, Bart. carefully corrected, and the Latin Part translated into English; with copious Notes, critical and explanatory.

BY DR. SHAW.

CONTAINING,

Vol. I. Essays, Moral, Economical, and Political, with a Portrait and Memoirs of the Author.

Vol. II. and III. Miscellaneous Writings, in Philosophy, Morality, and Religion.

Vol. IV. and V. Novum Organum Scientiarum, containing Rules for conducting the Understanding in the Search of Truth, and raising a solid Structure of Universal Philosophy.

Vol. VI. and VII. De Augmentis Scientiarum; or, the Arrangement and general Survey of Knowledge, with its particular Defects, and the Ways of supplying them, for the Advancement of Arts and Sciences.

Vol. VIII. and IX. Sylva Sylvarum, the Phenomena of the Universe; or, the Model of a Repository of Materials for erecting a solid and serviceable Philosophy, on the Basis of Experiment and Observation.

Vol. X. Select Letters upon various Occasions, relating to the Author's Life and Writings.

Vol. XI. A Delineation of the Particular History of Life and Death; with a View to preserve Health, retard Old Age, and lengthen the present Period of Human Life; with a Critique on the Ancient Philosophers.

Vol. XII. A Draught of the Particular History of the Wind, with a View to bring it under the Power of Man, and render it farther subservient to Human Uses.—A Plan for the Particular History of Condensation and Rarefaction.—Philosophia Prima: Physical Essays on different Subjects, with Regard to the Improvement of Natural Philosophy; to which is added, a General Glossary.

“ Lord Chancellor Bacon, one of the boldest and most independent Reasoners and experimental Philosophers that any Age or Country can boast, and who owes every Thing to his profound Contemplation and View of Nature, as if she had never been explored before. It was he who taught Philosophy not to venture a single Step without bearing on the Crutch of Experiment.”

Appendix to Monthly Review, Vol. xxxvi.

** To prevent Mistakes, and the Obtrusion of former and inferior Editions of the above Work, the Public are particularly requested to ask for, or order, Dr. SHAW's Edition of the above Works, being the only Edition that has the Latin translated into English, and is printed in the same Size and Uniformity with Mr. SHAW's British Classics.
