About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

WOODVILLE'S MEDICAL BOTANY.

THIS Work, which will be completed in Fifty-Five Numbers, contains systematic and general Descriptions, with Plates of all the Medicinal Plants, indigenous and exotic, comprehended in the Catalogues of the Materia Medica of the Royal Colleges of Physicians of London and Edinburgh, accompanied with a circumstantial Account of their medicinal Effects, and of the Diseases in which they are most successfully employed.

Character of the First Edition.

"It is with Pleasure we introduce a Work, where Ornament and Instruction are so intimately united; Dr. WOODVILLE combines the Botanical History and Descriptions of Medicinal Plants with their Properties and Use; rendering his Work a comprehensive System of the Materia Medica. In the Conduct of the Work, he collects his Materials from the best Authorities.

"The Plants are drawn and engraved with great Accuracy; the Habits and the Proportions properly preserved. This Part of the Work reflects great Credit on the Artist, Mr. SOWERBY. We highly approve of this Work, and think it an indispensable Addition to every Medical Library."

THE NATURAL HISTORY OF BRITISH FISHES, including scientific and general Descriptions of the most interesting Species, and an extensive Series of accurately finished Coloured Plates, taken entirely from original Drawings, purposefully made from the Specimens in a recent State, and for the most Part whilst living.

By E. DONOVAN,

Author of the Natural Histories of British Birds, Insects, Shells, &c.

Printed for the Author, and for F. C. and J. RIVINGTON, No. 62, St. Paul's Church-Yard.—Sold also by J. HATCHARD, No. 150, Piccadilly.

* * This Work, consisting of Sixty Monthly Numbers, includes
One Hundred and Twenty Plates of British Fishes with appropriate Descriptions, and may be considered as one of the most splendid and useful Publications on the Natural History of this Country that has hitherto been offered to the Public Attention. The Subjects from which the Drawings have been exclusively taken, were collected progressively, with very considerable Trouble and Expence, and by great Exertion have been obtained for the most Part in a recent State, thereby affording the Artists employed an Opportunity of representing those brilliant and perishable Beings in their true Colours, and glowing with the vivid Hues of Life.

N. B. This Work may be purchased either Monthly in Numbers, at 3s. 6d. each, or Half-Yearly in Volumes, at Two Guineas each,
in Boards.
