About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

EXOTIC CONCHOLOGY,

Or Figures and Descriptions of Rare and undescribed Shells, selected from the Most beautiful Specimens; and coloured in Imitation of Drawings.

By WILLIAM SWAINSON, F.R.S. F.L.S. &c.

This Work is intended to contain accurate and faithfully coloured Figures of some of the most beautiful and rare Shells that remain undescribed, or are imperfectly figured by former Writers, and which from their size, cannot conveniently be introduced in the "Zoological Illustrations" the unreserved access to some of the principal Cabinets in this Country with which the Author has been favoured, will enable him to select as subjects for the Work, many Shells of the greatest rarity and beauty, at the same time he will feel obliged by the intimation of any others existing in Cabinets he has not yet seen, and which, if adapted for this Work, and entrusted to him, shall be most faithfully and expeditiously returned.

The Plates will be engraved on Stone by the Author, and afterwards carefully finished in Colours. It is intended to be published (on a Royal Quarto Size,) in Parts to appear every Two Months, each containing Eight Plates, and the Letter Press (which will be given in the course of Publication) arranged systematically, the whole will be completed in Two Volumes; the Price of each Part 10s. 6d. plain; 16s. coloured; or with plain and coloured Impressions £1 1s.
