About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

TRIUMPH OF TRUTH!

Depôt du Rhin,

POUR LA SEULE VÉRITABLE EAU DE COLOGNE.

“ We at once congratulate the Fashionable World, Faculty, Dentists, and Nervously-afflicted, of either Sex, upon the facility now available at the Court-end of the Metropolis, for procuring that pre-eminently lauded and truly inestimable medicinal—as fragrantly vivifying, appendage of the Toilet, Bath, &c.

FARINA'S

Genuine Eau de Cologne,

(à la Paul Féminis)

“ Warranted direct from the RHINE: emanating in the special appointment of M. DURAND & CO. FOREIGN PERFUMERS, 25, St. James's Street; from which provident circumstance we are led to hope at least, that the almost innumerable spurious preparations designated by the above most flagrantly abused name, and but too successfully foisted on the untraveller, by ignorant obtrusive itinerant and other nefarious Empirics, will, through the medium of the respectable Firm in allusion, ere long become generally detected and exploded withal, from the gaudy alluring window of the specious self-fabricating CHEMIST, down to that of the humblest FRISUR of the Capital and elsewhere; for to borrow a well-known phrase of the imitably facetious MATHEWS, AT HOME,—‘ We have analysed it—and we know it!’ ”
