About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

TO ADVERTISERS.

CURTIS'S
BOTANICAL MAGAZINE.

The BOTANICAL MAGAZINE, which has been published without intermission on the first day of every Month for the last Forty-six Years, and is circulated amongst the most respectable classes of society, from its established reputation, elegance, and scientific tendency, must be viewed with interest by all persons under whose observation it comes, and will be found a most desirable medium to Advertisers.

All persons wishing to advertise WORKS on SCIENCE, ingenious IMPROVEMENTS or INVENTIONS, more particularly as they may relate to Horticulture, Agriculture, or any subject, in which not only the Nobility and Gentry, but all scientific persons would feel an interest, are respectfully informed by Mr. CURTIS, that his BOTANICAL MAGAZINE forms one of the best vehicles for bringing such improvements under the notice of the most intelligent persons in these kingdoms, as well as abroad. The Work is elegantly printed in Royal Octavo, and the Advertisements admitted are of a select description.

TERMS. For a whole page royal octavo, £2 2s.; half a page, £1 1s.; one-third of a page, 15s.; not exceeding ten lines, 10s. 6d. For Stitching-in Proposals, Prospectuses, &c. not exceeding four pages, £1 11s. 6d.

Prospectuses, &c. sent for Stitching-in must be perfectly dry, as the Plates of the Work are beautifully coloured; and would be much injured by damp Prospectuses.

N. B. It is requested, that all Advertisements, &c. may be sent to the Publishers, MESSRS. SHERWOOD, GILBERT, and PAPER, 23, Paternoster Row, by the 21st of the month.

PERSONAL BEAUTY.

In the fashionable world, few things are more prized, valued, and admired, than Personal Beauty, and the assistance of art to enhance or supply the appearance of the charms of nature, is sought with an avidity by both sexes. In the department of the toilet not a greater anxiety is more generally or properly felt, than in reference to that beautiful ornament the hair, the delightful, and felicitous, and fascinating charms incident to a fine head of hair, is absolutely essential to perfection of beauty in either sex. The feature of an individual may be irregular, ill proportioned, or the eyes inexpressive, but with the possession of this attribute of excellence, no countenance can look absolutely plain. It is only to be regretted that, like many things the most estimated, the hair from a variety of causes is often the first attribute of decline in health and appearance, when such is the case, the sufferer naturally looks around for some tried invention, the result of long and toilsome study, to arrest Decay's effacing fingers. Of all the specifics ever yet invented for preserving and decorating the hair, long-tried public approbation has for many years awarded the palm to ROWLAND'S celebrated MACASSAR OIL. The singular efficacious virtues of this happy and successful invention in stopping and preventing all weakness and decay of the hair, is too well known and appreciated by an intelligent public to need much comment; while its regular application subdues all relaxing tendencies, and promotes a quick and vigorous growth of beautiful and curly hair that lasts to the latest period of human life.

ADDRESS TO THE PUBLIC.

It is with feelings of no ordinary satisfaction, and with the proudest emotions of gratitude, that the proprietors and original inventors of the Macassar Oil, presume to offer their Annual tribute of thanks to a liberal and enlightened public, for the unprecedented and munificent patronage with which they have been honoured.

Many years have elapsed since the Macassar Oil was first introduced to the notice of the Public: and each revolving year has produced renewed testimonials of its pre-eminent virtues; and its increasing popularity has surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the Proprietors. Its celebrity has extended throughout Europe, and to the most distant regions of the Globe.

It can excite little surprise, that an article so highly appreciated by the Public, should be fraudently imitated; but the proprietors of the Original Macassar Oil are happy to state, that every attempt to injure or curtail the sale of that article has proved abortive, owing to the discernment and liberal conduct of a generous Public, actuated by enlightened principles of justice and equity.

Messrs. Rowland & Son cannot close this address, without, again, making their grateful acknowledgments for the favours conferred upon them, and humbly soliciting a continuation of that patronage with which they have been so highly honoured.

The Bottle is enclosed in a Wrapper, which has the words, Rowland's Macassar Oil, and between those words are the same minutely and curiously engraved twenty-four times,

A. ROWLAND & SON, 20, HATTON GARDEN,
Counter-signed ALEX. ROWLAND.

The Lowest Price is 3s. 6d.—the next price is 7s.—10s. 6d. and 21s. per bottle.—All other Prices, or any without the Book and Label, are Counterfeits.

Sold by the Proprietors, & most respectable Perfumers, Chemists, & Medicine Venders.

MR. SAMUEL CURTIS,

(PROPRIETOR OF THE BOTANICAL MAGAZINE,)

Of the Glazenwood Horticultural Grounds, near Coggeshall, Essex, begs to recommend the following Articles from his Stock.

APPLES. A very choice and extensive Collection of the best and most useful, both for Dessert and Culinary purposes; among which he recommends his GLAZENWOOD GLORIA MONDI Apple, the Fruit of which he has grown, to the enormous weight of Twenty-six Ounces, dwarf trees 2s. 6d. The NEW AROMATIC PIPPIN, has been allowed by competent Judges to surpass all others for flavour, and will keep well until May and June, dwarf trees 2s. 6d. each. Scarlet Pearmain, Golden Russet Nonpareil, Court Wick, and New Golden Reinette from their very abundant bearing, long keeping and free growth, are very desirable Apples, dwarf trees, 1s.; standards, 1s. 6d. Mr. CURTIS, in his Collection at this place, which consists of Fifty Acres, planted with Apples and other Fruit Trees, finds them the most productive and best worth growing.
