Statement on harmful and offensive content

The Hunt Institute Archives contains hundreds of thousands of pages of historical content, writing and images, created by thousands of individuals connected to the botanical sciences. Due to the wide range of time and social context in which these materials were created, some of the collections contain material that reflect outdated, biased, offensive and possibly violent views, opinions and actions. The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation does not endorse the views expressed in these materials, which are inconsistent with our dedication to creating an inclusive, accessible and anti-discriminatory research environment. Archival records are historical documents, and the Hunt Institute keeps such records unaltered to maintain their integrity and to foster accountability for the actions and views of the collections' creators.

Many of the historical collections in the Hunt Institute Archives contain personal correspondence, notes, recollections and opinions, which may contain language, ideas or stereotypes that are offensive or harmful to others. These collections are maintained as records of the individuals involved and do not reflect the views or values of the Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation or those of Carnegie Mellon University.

About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

1923 Medal for Achievement

In 1922, the National Horticultural Society founded a ^{each year} ~~annual~~ medal to be awarded to the person making the greatest contribution to horticultural progress in America during the year, and in 1923, this was amended to include corporations, societies and committees. During 1922 no award was made.

Among the recipients

In 1923, the American Joint Committee on Horticultural Nomenclature made the greatest contribution to American horticulture and the National Horticultural Society's Medal for Achievement ~~in horticulture~~ ^{in recognition of} the publication of "Standardized Plant Names: A Catalogue of Approved Scientific and Common Names of Plants in American Commerce."

An account of the work of the Committee will be published in the next issue of the Magazine.

Mrs. Pearl H. Frazer, Field Secretary, National Horticultural Society,
Grand Forks, N. D.

Dear Mrs. Frazer: After finishing my Quarter examinations on the 20th I spent the whole day of the 21st. getting up my records, and in addressing the envelopes and 1924 statements to be sent out with the Magazines early in January. In checking up the records, I notice that only Mrs. Simmer and Miss Johnston are still unaccounted for of those sent in from Grand Forks. Mrs. Christenson, Mrs. Stewart etc. were fixed up as we went along. These can be fixed up by charging $2.00 to postage, and crediting $2.00 for dues received. There are others who have not paid but most of these are hopeless as I sent several statements to them and have received no remittance. We can have the board act on these at ~~the~~ its next meeting. I understand that Mrs. Heath was in favor of crediting Mr. Mergen for the book he sent in. Mrs. Revo and Mr. Rodriguez, regional vice presidents are also delinquent. We can put it up to the board for decision, unless you have suggestions. None of the Philipinos have paid.

I am sending herewith some advertising rate slips, and trust that they will be satisfactory.

I will return all your unofficial letters as soon as I get time to go over my files. I am taking a few days of much needed rest.

With the compliments of the season, I remain,

Sincerely

To the Editors of the National Horticultural Magazine
I am teaching Agriculture in the High School here in Chicago, and have a small farm in Southern Michigan, where I am making an Arboretum and Experimental Garden. The farm is protected by the Sand Dunes on the west and North west, and I believe I can grow plants from all parts of the world, with some protection for the tender varieties, at least I want to try as many as possible.

I wonder if some of your plants, cuttings, bulbs, or seeds, and if I have anything I can return in exchange I shall be happy to do so.

I have at present some 400
varieties of fruit and nuts, 200 varieties of perennials and shrubs, and about 250 varieties of roses.

Any courtesy you or your readers may extend to me I shall greatly appreciate.

The National Horticultural Society of America

The object of the THE NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OF AMERICA is "the increase and diffusion of horticultural knowledge and the stimulation of universal interest in horticulture;" the Society is entirely altruistic and educational in nature, and its scope covers the entire field of horticulture; ornamental gardening, including landscape gardening; amateur flower gardening; professional flower gardening or floriculture; vegetable gardening with special emphasis on the kitchen garden; fruit raising with special emphasis on the home orchard, and all activities allied with horticulture. The Society co-operates in a helpful way with all other horticultural agencies in the field, and serves as a central clearing house for horticultural knowledge in America.

In order to carry out its policy of popularizing horticulture, the Society publishes its journal THE NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL MAGAZINE, (Number 1, Volume 1, published in August, 1922), which is sent to all Fellows of the Society. As soon as practicable, the Society will publish THE AMERICAN NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL YEAR BOOK (THE AMERICAN NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL ANNUAL); THE AMERICAN NATIONAL PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY OF HORTICULTURAL PLANT NAMES; THE AMERICAN NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL COLOR CHART, practical texts on gardening for each of the climatic regions of the continent, and many other valuable works on horticultural subjects. A beginning will be made to standardize plant nomenclature in co-operation with other organizations; books, herbarium specimens, relics, portraits, etc., are being accumulated for THE AMERICAN NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL LIBRARY, HERBARIUM, AND MUSEUM; an AMERICAN NATIONAL BOTANICAL GARDEN and test garden will be sponsored in each of the regional districts; provision will be made for the stimulation of school gardening, the proper functioning of local horticultural societies, national centers for the specialized study of horticultural subjects, local, regional and national horticultural (flower, fruit, and vegetable) exhibitions, horticultural scholarships and many other worth while activities. The Society links together in one great family the gardening enthusiasts of America.

The program of the Society will be gradually put into practice as funds become available and as opportunity for service offers. The benefits of a fellowship in the Society are worth many times the annual dues, and in joining the Society you are helping to give gardening activities the proper emphasis in American civilization. All who are interested in horticulture are eligible to fellowship on the nomination of a Fellow of the Society.

CLASSES OF FELLOWS

FELLOWS (F. N. H. S.) Persons interested in horticulture who shall pay annual dues: $1.00 in U. S.; P. I., and Canada; foreign $2.00; dues include subscription to THE NATIONAL HORTICULTURAL MAGAZINE.

LIFE FELLOWS (L. F. N. H. S.) Persons interested in horticulture who have commuted annual dues by the payment at one time of $100.

PATRON FELLOWS (P. F. N. H. S.) Persons interested in horticulture who have contributed $500 or more to the objects of the Society; they shall be entitled to all the privileges of fellowship for life.

CHARTER FELLOWS (C. F. N. H. S.) Persons who were admitted to fellowship between July 1, 1922 and June 30, 1923, both dates inclusive.

HONORARY FELLOWS (H. F. N. S.) Persons who have made valuable contributions to horticultural progress may be elected to Honorary Fellowship.
