About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Kurze Mittheilung von Prof. Dr. Oscar Drude, Dresden.

Sehr geehrter Herr

Ich habe Ihre sehr geschätzte Sendung mit großem Dank empfangen und beeile mich darauf zu antworten, daß ich den hohen Werth der Publicationen in diesen „Contributions“ vollauf würdige und dieselbe in den Referaten über die Fortschritte der Florenkunde etc. zu verbreiten suche, wie ich sie bei meinen eigenen Arbeiten benutze. (Die Sendung traf zufällig mit Verpäckung ein)

Wollen Sie die Kürze dieser Antwort mit dem Bestreben entschuldigen, eine Verzögerung brieflicher Mittheilungen soweit als möglich zu vermeiden.

Ihr sehr ergebener

Drude
