About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Stockholm den 11^{ten} Juli 1902

Sehr geehrter Herr Professor!

Während meiner Reise im nördlichen Argentinien und Bolivia 1901-02 sammelte ich auch in der Taschewan (besonders in dem Gran Chaco-Territorium) einige Gramineen, die noch unbeschrieben liegen.
Wollten Sie mir mit der Bestimmung helfen, wäre ich Ihnen ausserordentlich dankbar.
Von den allermeisten habe ich Dubletten gesammelt, die Sie, wenn

Sie es wünschen, für Ihres Herbarium behalten können; nur einige sind in einem einzigen Exemplare heingebracht. Wenn Sie mir erlauben die kleine Sammlung zu senden, so bitte ich Sie mir mit ein paar Zeilen davon zu unterrichten; Adresse: Bot. Abth. des naturhist. Reichs-museums, Stockholm.

Mit besonderer Hochachtung

Ihre ergebene
Rob. E. Fries
