About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Cher Monsieur,

Après mes meilleurs remerciements pour l'intéressant manuscrit sur les Graminées nouvelles de Sibirie, ou Lauréole, qui n'est parvenu il y a 99 jours. Je vous adresse aussi mes plus vives gratitudes pour l'aimable propos de revision de nos Graminées sibiriennes pour la publication - cela ne vous aura que vous recevrez tout les Graminées publiées avec leurs étiquettes imprimées et aussi la "Soluce" de sa publication.

Le tout en train de partir pour l'exploration de quelques cosmognomes qui ne présentent un matériel très intéressant de Graminées, et au cours de cette publication je serai dans les montagnes calcaires et l'Abkhazie ou voyageant paris par M. Alcheff. J'espère de rapporter un riche butin.

Agitez, cher Monsieur, mes meilleurs sentiments Votre très-dévoté G. Morozoff.
