

Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation
5th Floor, Hunt Library
Carnegie Mellon University
4909 Frew Street
Pittsburgh, PA 15213-3890
Telephone: 412-268-2434
Email: huntinst@andrew.cmu.edu
Web site: www.huntbotanical.org

The Hunt Institute is committed to making its collections accessible for research. We are pleased to offer this digitized item.

Usage guidelines

We have provided this low-resolution, digitized version for research purposes. To inquire about publishing any images from this item, please contact the Institute.

About the Institute

The Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation, a research division of Carnegie Mellon University, specializes in the history of botany and all aspects of plant science and serves the international scientific community through research and documentation. To this end, the Institute acquires and maintains authoritative collections of books, plant images, manuscripts, portraits and data files, and provides publications and other modes of information service. The Institute meets the reference needs of botanists, biologists, historians, conservationists, librarians, bibliographers and the public at large, especially those concerned with any aspect of the North American flora.

Hunt Institute was dedicated in 1961 as the Rachel McMasters Miller Hunt Botanical Library, an international center for bibliographical research and service in the interests of botany and horticulture, as well as a center for the study of all aspects of the history of the plant sciences. By 1971 the Library's activities had so diversified that the name was changed to Hunt Institute for Botanical Documentation. Growth in collections and research projects led to the establishment of four programmatic departments: Archives, Art, Bibliography and the Library.

Rhodora

April 2, 1924.

Dr. B. L. Robinson,
Editor of Rhodora,
Exchange Building,
Boston, Mass.

Dear Doctor Robinson:

Herewith I am sending you a paper entitled "Extensions of Range and a New Variety in Salix," for publication in the Rhodora if found suitable.

The data contained therein will serve to show that several species of willows are not as restricted in their range to the westward as generally is indicated in manuals of botany and in herbaria and will serve to encourage local as well as professional collectors and the makers of State floras.

With kind personal regards, I am

Very sincerely yours,

CRB:SS
Enclosure

C. R. Ball,
Cerealist in Charge.

June 2, 1924.

Dr. B. L. Robinson,
3 Clement Circle,
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

In reading the proof of my article and returning it to you on May 30, I find that I neglected two things. In the first place, I mailed it to you at Gray Herbarium instead of 3 Clement Circle, which I trust did not cause you too much inconvenience. In the second place, I neglected to write regarding the number of reprints desired.

I note that an author receives 25 copies of the Journal in which his article appears; also that reprints are quoted by the hundred with no indication that fewer than 100 copies can be ordered or at least that they will cost less than a full hundred.

I would like to enter an order for 100 copies of a reprint of my article. If Rhodora will send me 25 additional copies of the reprint free instead of 25 copies of the issue of Rhodora in which the article appears, I will be glad to have them. If this cannot be done conveniently, I will be glad to receive the 25 copies of the Journal.

Very truly yours,

C. R. Ball,
Cerealist in Charge.

CRB/ecs

Aug. 18, 1924.

Dr. B. L. Robinson,
3 Clement Circle,
Cambridge, Mass.

Dear Dr. Robinson:

In further reference to my letter of June 2, placing an order for 100 copies of a reprint of my article, which has just appeared in Rhodora for July, I am writing to say that I have not yet received the reprints. I received the 100 free copies of the July number of Rhodora, but the reprints have not come. Perhaps they lag somewhat behind the issuance of the Journal, but I will be glad if you will refer this letter to the proper party and see what is doing.

Very truly yours,

O. R. Ball,
Cerealist in Charge.

ORB/ecs